Thornton Fractional South is a growing adolescent. In ten brief years, it has doubled in size, from 1000 students and 56 teachers to 1850 students and 100 teachers.

The school first opened its doors in the Spring of 1958. Even though there was a split between schools, many problems did not arise. Half of North's faculty was sent to South. Of the twelve members of the Double Sextet at North, eleven were from Lansing, and they formed the nucleus of the organization with only one new member. The Meistersingers were carried over from North with the northern branch changing their name to Northernaires. The Carnival-Stage Show was shared equally between schools with North retaining the Carnival and South receiving the Stage Show. It was christened Fractional Follies and debuted in 1958.

The first years at South were years of organization. The Seniors of the class of '59 were given the task of picking the school song, colors, and starting many of the clubs and traditions. There was a large amount of campaigning for school colors with the choice being "orange and blue", "red, white, and black", and the chosen "red and gray." The title of "Rebels" was adopted almost unanimously by the entire student body and the Confederate flag became the school's emblem. The original school song, written by a group of seniors, was sung to the tune of "Dixie."

Oh we come from the South and we're called the Rebels.

We are fighting, feuding devils,
 Fight away, fight away, fight away, TF South.
 When they see us come they all quiver.
 When we win tonight we'll fry their liver,
 Fight away, fight away, fight away, TF South.
 When they see our team a coming,
 They shout, "Look out!"

For there is no team that makes them squeam like our fightin', feuding Rebels.

Fight rough, fight tough,
Let's win tonight you Rebels.
Fight right, with might,
Let's win tonight you Rebels.

The first Homecoming was in the fall of 1960, but the first Homecoming queen, Janet Day, did not reign until 1961. Homecoming was sponsored by the new Student Council which had grown from the Presidential Advisory Board that had first been organized at the split.

South Clubs organized quickly during the first years. Mrs. Ruth Hale Canaga sponsored the first chapter of the National Honor Society which also bore her name. Girls' Club transferred from North with a complete board headed by Gail Emlund who had been Vice-President at North. The club was sponsored by Miss Janet Wenzell. When North's Girls' Athletic Club (GAC) branched to South it became affiliated with the national organization and became GAA. The 1959-60 school year saw the beginnings of FTA, FBLA, Pep Club, and hall monitors. Unique to South were Spanish Club, German Club, and Russian Club.

Prom was, and is, the greatest highlight of the school year. South's first prom was held in 1959. The first After-Prom party sponsored by Parent's Club was given after this prom.

Sports at South were combined with North until 1959. Our first football game was a Friday afternoon bout at Bremen, with a tie score of 13-13. Coach John Padgen headed the first team. Booster Club also started that year. The athletic "derby" was carried over from North which had been taken from East Chicago-Roosevelt's idea. Joe Jurecki, class of 1965, was the only athlete to win the athletic derby as a junior. South belonged to the South Suburban Conference until it split to form the SESC (South-East Suburban Conference,) which our school joined.

South is obviously changing with age. This issue of the "Postscript" is also celebrating its anniversary. South's annual was almost called the "merrimac" after the famous Civil War battleship. We wish to express our gratitude to Linda Elias, 1965 assistant "Postscript" editor, Mr. Joseph Hyde, Miss Carol Bendell and also the following editors; Becky Bonnar, underclass, Liz Kersten, seniors, Kathy Neumann, ad manager, and Paul Warn, sports. We hope that, upon viewing this yearbook, you, too, will see why we have adopted as our motto and theme, "A change of routine."

In dedication to . . .

Miss Anna Schmidt has taught at Thornton Fractional High Schools for 40 years. She served as Dean of Women at North for seven years. We will always remember her for her dedication both to the schools and to the kids.

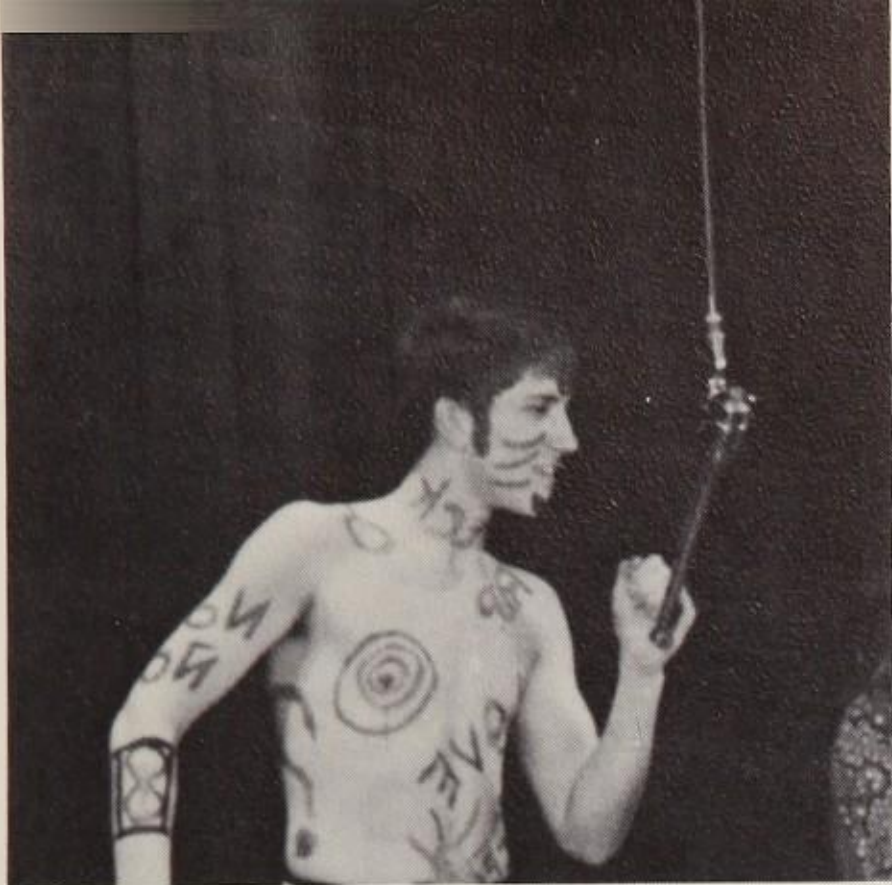

Mr. Wilbur Petree was one of the giants of prep coaching in the Greater Midwest. He died on November 16, 1968 after many years of service to North and South as both a coach and a teacher.

Ken Qualls, a member of the class of '69, moved to Lansing from Joshua, Texas in 1965. He died December 27 of last year at Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

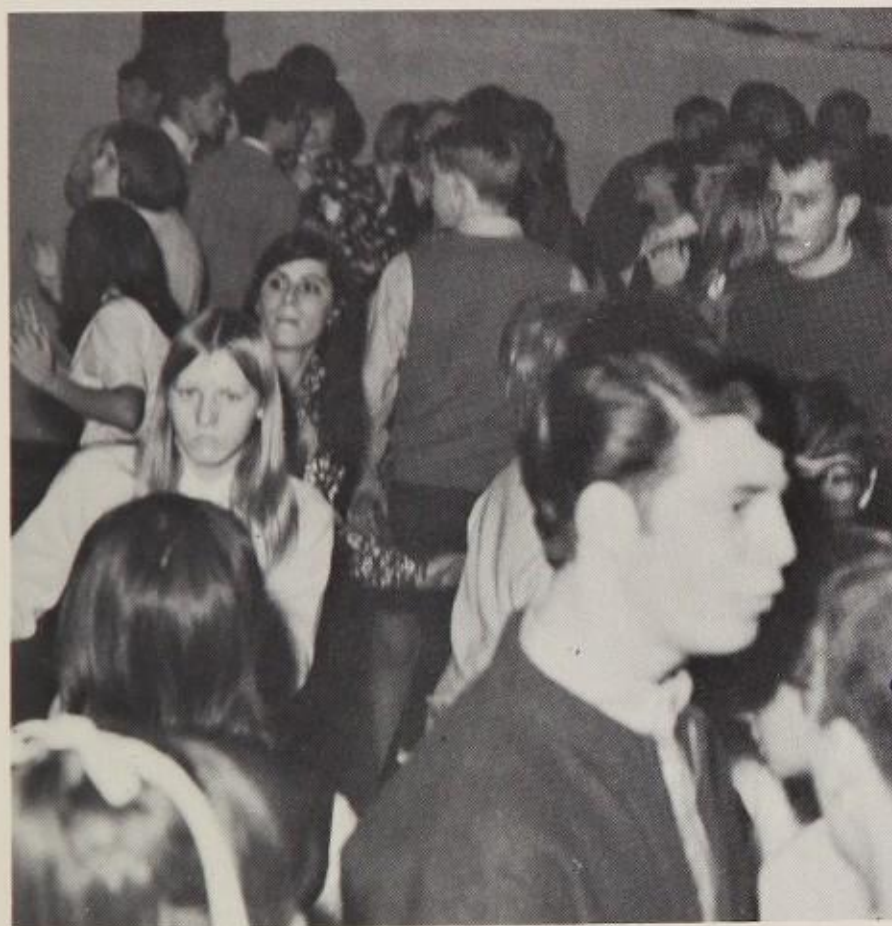

Captain Henry Szymborski, Lansing's Juvenile Officer, died on February 25, 1969, after many years of continuous work for the youth of Lansing. His film library, geared to teenagers and their problems, will be a continuing memorial to his efforts.

Mrs. Lucy Woods died September 10, 1968. She had served as social counselor at South and North since 1957. She came to our district after working at a Chicago welfare agency and serving as a social worker for family court.

Prom King and Queen and Court: Bob Dwyer, Karen Follmar, Dean Ward, Sharon Brewer, Queen Darlene Lintz, June Jabaay, Tom Kirsch, King Pat McNary, Debbie Cable, Jim Vliek.

"Fleurs de Paris" est très bien.

Debbie Kazmierowski and escort Lee Fetscher enter the prom.

Dimly lit sidewalk cafes were filled with elegantly attired couples. Soft music floated on a wispy breeze, scented by hundreds of spring flowers. Nearby, couples strolled in front of quaint french shops or danced under a sparkling canopy. King Pat McNary and Queen Darlene Lintz reigned over the fairytale kingdom. Such was "Fleurs de Paris", prom of 1968. The city of Paris was recreated by the class of 1969 under the leadership of prom co-chairmen Linda Illo and Bob Collins.

Karen Krygier serves punch to a happy couple.

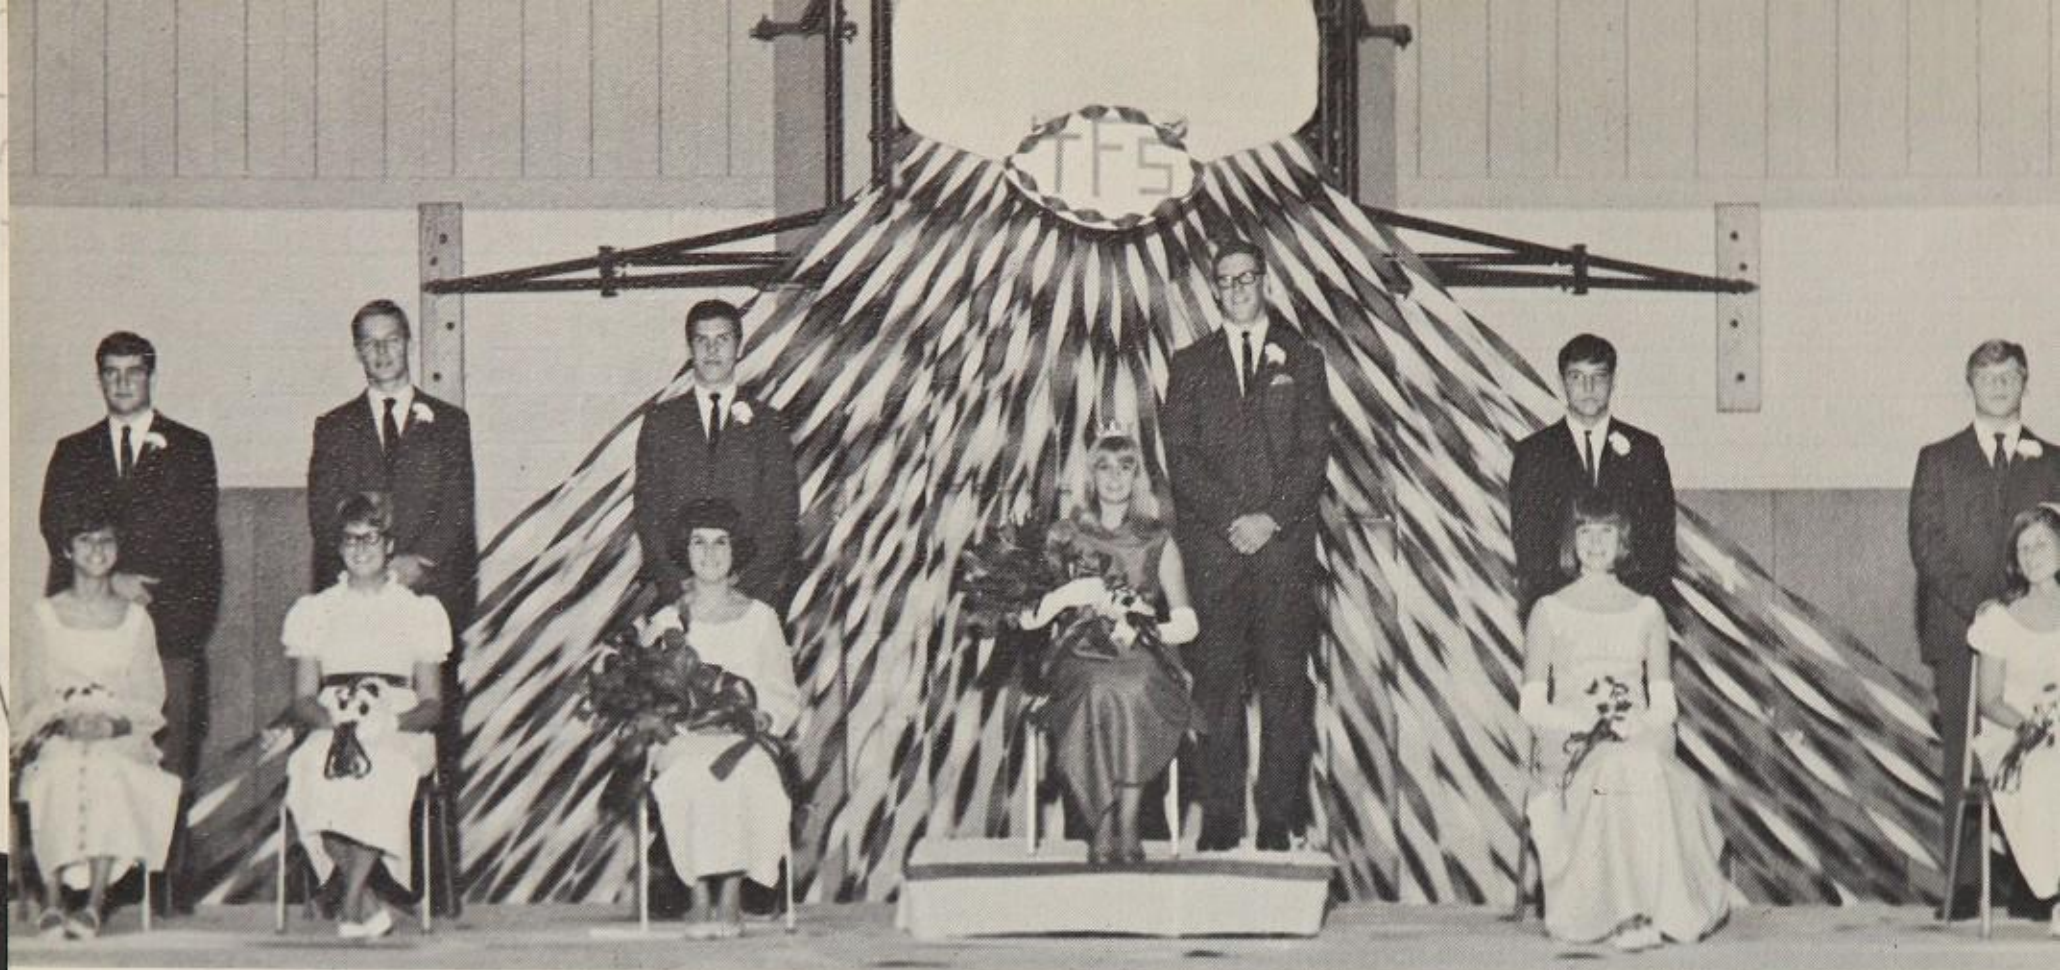

Prom Co-chairman Bob Collins places a crown on the head of Queen Darlene Lintz.

King Pat McNary receives his crown from Prom Co-chairman Linda Illo.

The spirit of "Fleurs de Paris" permeates the atmosphere of prom.

Diane Watts reigns over 1968 Homecoming.

Tearful, but happy, Queen Diane receives roses and a kiss from Gerd Kohler.

Dick Weber gets last minute instructions from Liz Kersten, Homecoming co-chairman, moments before coronation.

Triumphant, the Soph. class officers are awarded the trophy for the best float.

An exciting weekend is climaxed by the Homecoming Dance, "Rebel Rebelee."

"The Bare Facts", with the aid of the HC Dance chairmen, Ruth Percak, Debbie Tegtmeyer, and Nancy Horvatic, pres. set the mood and music of the night.

A quiet dance after a hectic week is well deserved by five young ladies.

The Soph. Class took first place with their float.

Student Council projects benefit many.

Student Council has been very busy this year working and serving others besides their usual activities. They strived and reached their goal this year of $1,000.00 to build a school in Iran through the Peace Corps. November 18-22 was declared "Citizenship Week". Student Council held a Salvation Army clothing drive and sold tags to buy Thanksgiving Day dinner for a needy family. During the Christmas season they promoted a campaign to "Send a card to a soldier in Vietnam." Student Council members took candy, gifts, and good cheer to the Bethany Home in Hammond. Council is going to send a check annually to support the Bethany Home.

Once again Student Council sponsored the T.F.S. Homecoming, assemblies, and Follies. "Up, Up, & Away", the 1969 Fractional Follies brings back many happy memories. The computer dance may have found your "ideal date." Student Council hosted a S.E.S.C. Student Council Exchange Day in February.

Girl's Club, a non-profit, service organization, helped many people this year. Girl's Club has hosted several teas this year. Lena, our foreign exchange student from Sweden, was honored early in the year with a buffet dinner for her, Mrs. Eggert, and the Girl's Club Board. The National Honor Society Open House was sponsored by Girl's Club. Their annual tea, to honor a T.F. South faculty member, was held this year for Miss Temple. The junior and senior girls were honored at their respective teas this spring.

"Christmas Is Love" was the theme of this year's Girl's Club Dance. A semi-formal, girl-ask-boy affair, the Girl's Club Dance always provides fun and excitement for all.

A successful musical, "Guys and Dolls", a winning play, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead," and the annual tour are the normal activities of DC and NTS. Along with this, the clubs collected gifts to give to a hospital and went on field trips into Chicago to various first run movies. For the first time, DC had a follies act. They showed their skills in their version of the musical "Hair."

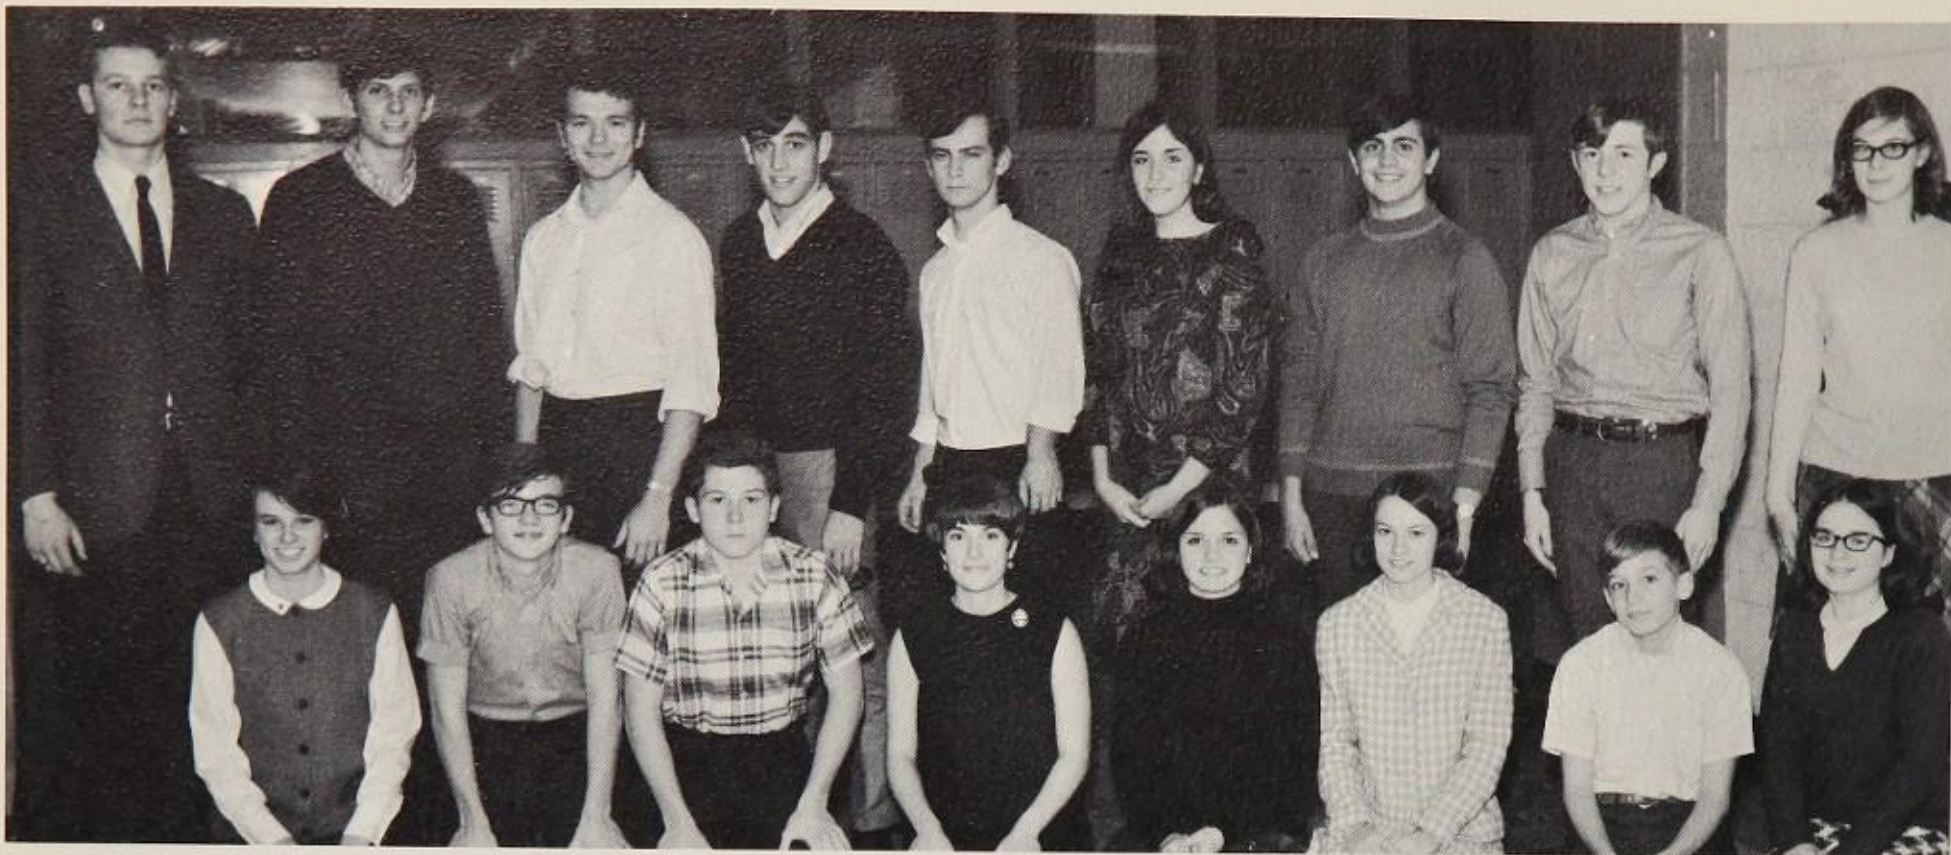

The four day tour left many memories, such as, Pij and Fij in Edwardsville, the dance in Flora, and the confiscation of Mac Murphy.

Speech and Debate have a victorious '69.

Sixty-nine was a year of firsts for both Debate and Speech. Trophies added up as Rebels chalked up the victories and team spirit soared. At the SESC meet, South took all the trophies except one. This year, South has two state qualifiers. Senior Jerry Fritz went in original monologue and Sophomore Marilou Van Laningham went in original oration.

The Varsity Debate team of Chris Wiedman, Ron

Doeve, Jan Dillon, and Ron Schultz won great honors this year. An experienced team will return next year because only one of the four is graduating this spring.

For the first time, South had enough participants to have two speech teams. The Kunkas success is mainly attributed to hours of hard work. With a lot of under-class talent, they are looking for bigger and better years to come.

Movies, lectures, parties, and the most important activity in any club, the field trip, filled the year of TF South language clubs. Participation was excellent in all organizations and the members agreed that interest was exceptional. An epidemic of underground newspapers emerged overnight and stayed all year. The advent of the newspapers showed a new spirit of South students in their language clubs. The highlight of the year was the Christmas season when all the language clubs combined their efforts for the second annual International Christmas Party.

Quincy, Illinois highlights bandsmen's year.

The Varsity Band is an integral part of school life. No one can imagine a football game or a parade without the marching red and gray. The same band also performs overtures and show tunes in concert and on tour. This year's calendar of events for the eighty bandsmen included football games, a winter and spring concert, three parades, basketball games, IHSA Solo and Ensemble Contest, a band clinic, and the annual spring tour.

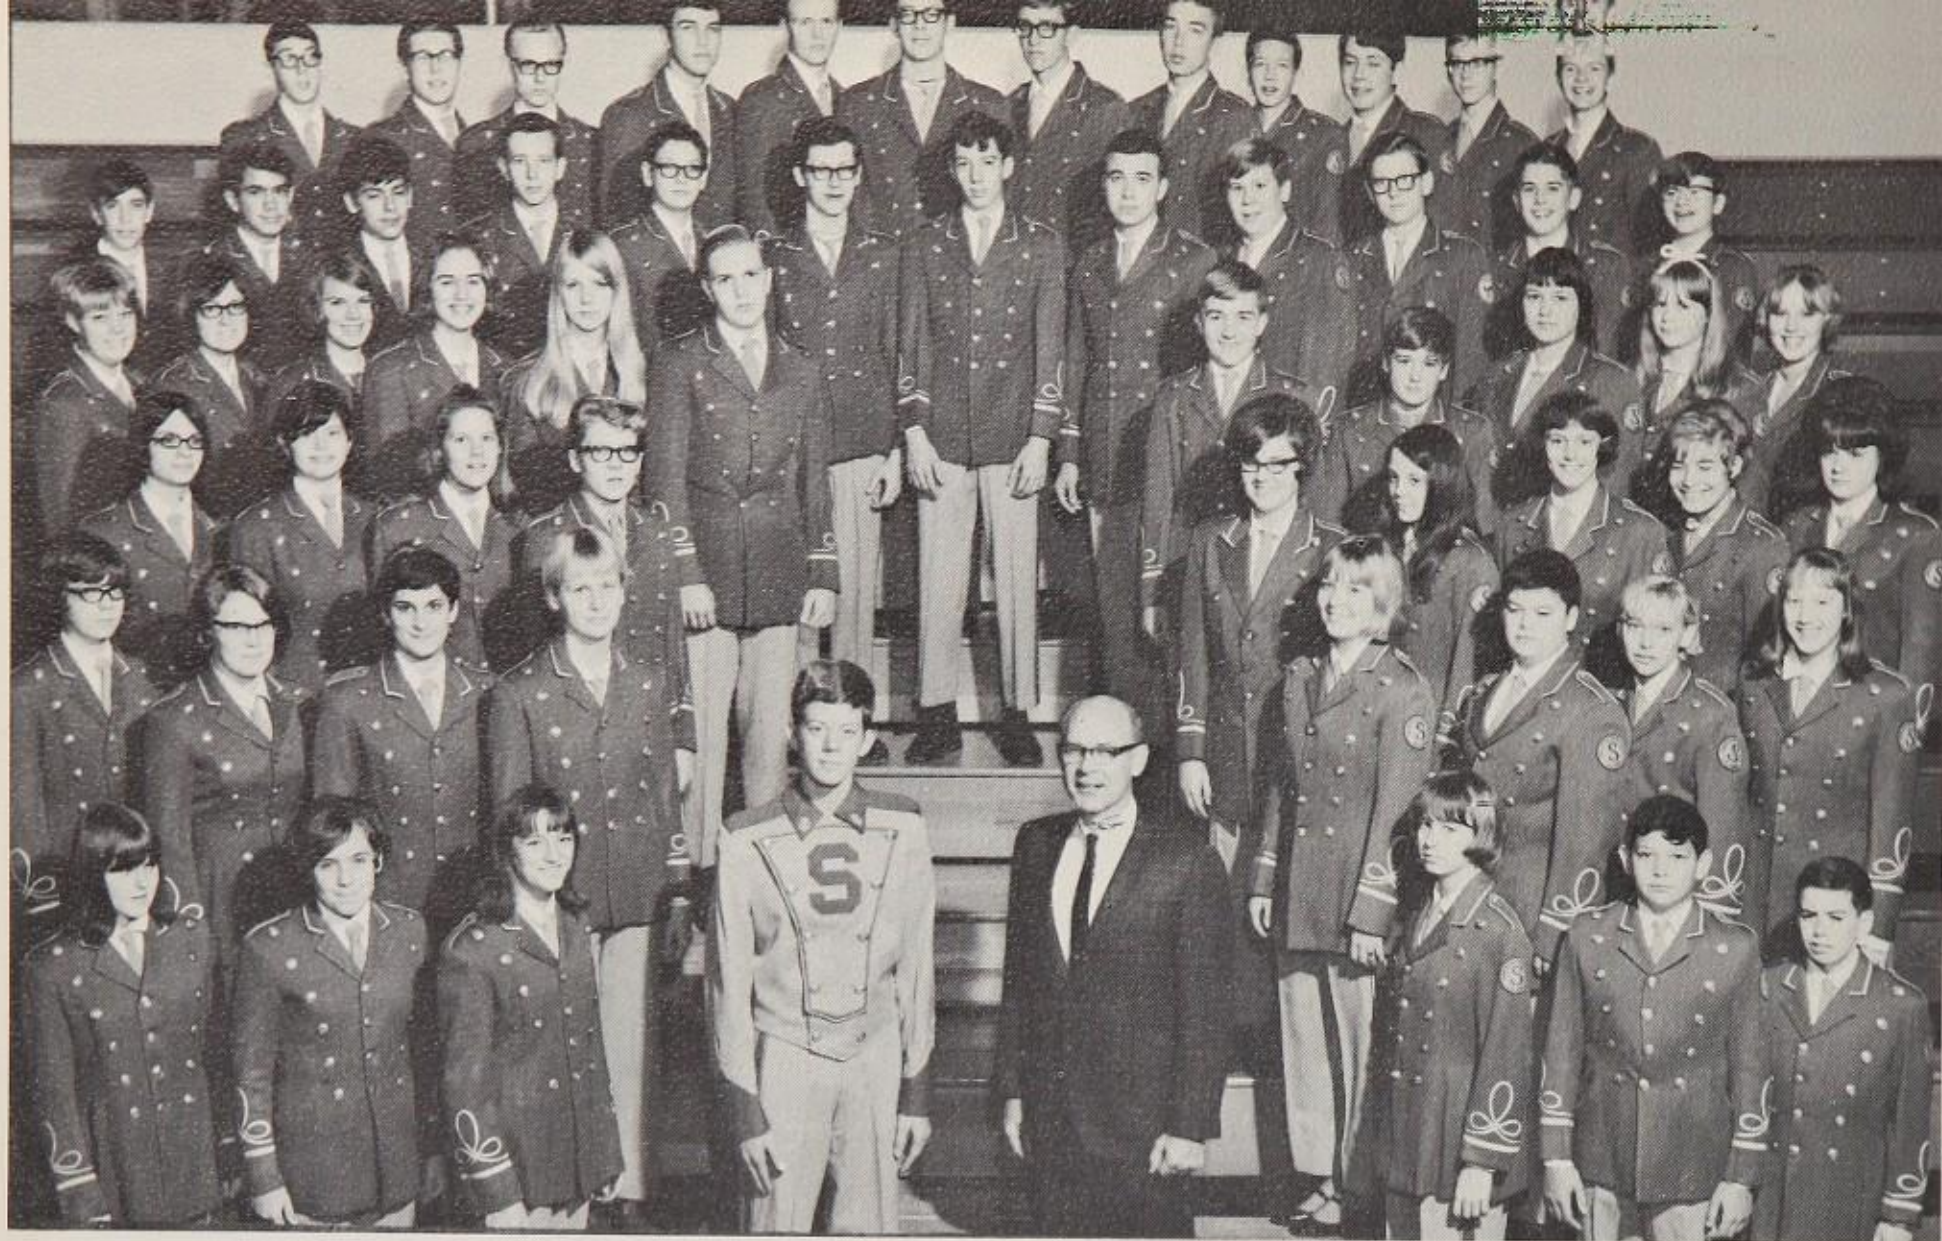

The highlight of the 1968-69 band season was the tour to Quincy, Illinois. For two days in April, the horn tootin' Rebels traveled, enjoyed themselves, and played for their suppers across the state. In return, the Quincy Band delighted all the Rebels with an assembly at South on their own tour.

To be part of the Varsity Band, a prospective member must "try out." Those who don't make it, are placed in the Junior Varsity Band. Once in the Varsity Band, all members are required to "challenge," that is, play before the director for a position in his respective section.

The Big Band sound has been recreated in the form of the Stage Band. Of the events of the year, the most important was the IHSA Stage Band contest. The band earned the usual second place rating and top honors went to lead alto sax player, Ed Fouts. He was chosen best alto sax player of the day, an honor never won by any South bandsmen before.

Another Varsity Band offshoot is the Pit Band for the fall musical. This group, as seen below, differs from the stage band. The musical score is written for an orchestra and flutes are substituted for violins.

Cadet Band: Seated; James Paryl. Standing; James Mason, Mr. Jack Wonnell, John Cain.

Twelve misses sing with elegance, charm.

Kathy, Sue, and Sue serenade their "friends."

The Double Sextet and the Meistersingers are the most active and well-known of South's choral groups. Besides singing at school events, both groups sing for other civic functions.

Seven seniors and one junior compose this year's Meistersingers. A good voice and the ability to read music are needed to qualify for this group. All Meistersingers are identifiable by their red blazers and white turtle necks. A new relaxed look characterized the Double Sextet this year. Formals were their usual attire but they have been known to perform in everything from pin-striped suits with guns to head-to-toe pajamas. At the end of their sophomore year, the girls were chosen for the Junior Ensemble, which meets with Advanced Girls' Chorus. Throughout their junior year, the ensemble practiced, preparing for their senior year. When the 1968-69 music season began, twelve girls were ready for the rigorous schedule of the Double Sextet.

'69 was a year of change and progress for TF South's yearbook, The Postscript. Work was started in late summer and general production ran earlier than usual. Snowed under by piles of graph paper, pictures, rough copy, etc., the editors and staff managed to produce an annual that they feel will surpass any this school has ever had.

The REBEL ROUSER is a bi-monthly publication written by Mr. Hyde's journalism class and a newspaper staff, and edited by two senior co-editors. 1968-69 was the 11th year of the paper and the 17 issues of this volume showed many "firsts." The first 6-page paper was put out and later on, the first 8-pager. This year's REBEL ROUSER produced the earliest edition ever—beginning the year on September 20. The REBEL ROUSER has never had a credo, but for 1968-69 it could very likely have been as such? Our aim is to make it YOUR paper.

Pam, I LOVE YOU! (and so a real my kid Best friend to ya. Love you!)

Pam, Have lots of fun in school and out. Remember all the bad times we had in German Class.

Rich Barnes Pam, remember our fun class + all the clothes we wore. Live alike. We just had good taste. Good luck Joanne

I couldn't
 Pam, I finally found
 I forgot to write some places to English. Never ever harm it, I'm my. I know you'll never get over your heart throbs. I hope you remember your time. Remember party
 I've seen you. Good luck in everything. I you do. You're real
 a sweet kid.
 Love
 Della
